

Where to Spend the Fourth of July.

SEE NEXT SUNDAY'S WORLD.

LYONS, JUNE 24, 1894.

EXTRA.
2 O'CLOCK.
THE GRIEF OF FRANCE.
Carnot's Death Has Plunged the Republic Into the Deepest Sorrow.
HATRED FOR HIS ASSASSIN.
Popular Wrath So Extended as to Embrace All Anarchists.
SYMPATHY OF OTHER NATIONS.
United States Senate Adjourns in Honor of the Dead President.

President Carnot was necessary, and it is said that this matter has been referred to the Cabinet Ministers, who are expected to render a decision shortly.

Anger at the Assassination.

The feeling of public anger which prevails in this city as a result of the assassination is almost beyond description. On the boulevards, this morning, a scene of the greatest excitement has been witnessed. The police had the greatest difficulty in dispersing the crowds of wildly angry people who assembled at different points, discussing the tragedy, cursing the assassin, and calling for vengeance against the murderer and his supposed accomplices.

Italian Flag Pulled Down.

The fact that the assassin is an Italian has given rise to the most dangerously bitter feeling against Italy and Italians, and several Italian flags, displayed out of sympathy with France's loss, and draped with crepe, were hauled down, in at least one instance, pulled down and torn into shreds.

In every quarter of Paris fierce demonstrations against the Italian residents have taken place, and, as a result, nearly all the Italian cafes and restaurants have been closed.

But if the feeling against Italians is strong, the sentiments of hatred with which the majority of the people regard Anarchists is still stronger, and is growing hourly in intensity.

Santo Still Retained.

Santo, the murderer, has boldly asserted that he is an Anarchist, and, therefore, upon the Anarchists are the people pouring the vials of their wrath. Further than asserting that he is an Anarchist, the prisoner has not, apparently, made any statement, but it is said that the police are convinced that the assassination of President Carnot is the result of a carefully planned conspiracy, in which a number of people are concerned.

The authorities are engaged in a most exhaustive investigation into the prisoner's past career and recent movements, and no official statement on the subject is likely to be made until this inquiry is completed.

Call to Elect a New President.

An official note was issued this morning, calling upon the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies to assemble in Congress at Versailles, at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, for the purpose of electing a new President.

It would be difficult to express at this time an opinion of any value as to the result of the assassination on the future of France, but political cabals will be formed, and the election of Mr. Carnot's successor goes without saying, but the time in which such combinations can be formed will be limited.

The most prominent name in connection with the Presidency is that of M. Casimir-Perier, at one time Prime Minister and now President of the Chamber of Deputies. That he is well qualified to fill the position is conceded, but it is scarcely believed that he can be elected without a bitter struggle. The political situation, complicated before, now becomes more so, and he would indeed be a wise prophet who could foretell the result of the election of the President.

The names of MM. Chaillet, Lacour, Dupuy, Brisson, Constans and Gen. Saussier are also mentioned as likely to be strong candidates.

Carnot's Death.

LYONS, June 23.—The bed on which M. Carnot died was of iron. It was placed between two windows of the palace, and the great flag which had been reserved for the President, which had been displayed in honor of his father's visit to Lyons, and which were not all removed this morning, was so agitated that he almost died.

The flags and other decorations on the facade were, however, removed during the night and the great flag which floats over the Chamber of Commerce was replaced by a large square flag of crepe.

The inhabitants of Lyons generally this morning are removing the festive decorations from their buildings and are replacing them with mourning emblems as far as possible.

Carnot's Body Lies in State.

The apartment at the Prefecture in which the body of the late President lies in state presents a most impressive appearance.

The remains of the murdered man are clad in a dress suit, and across his breast is the Grand Cord on of the Legion of Honor, as Chief of the State, he was Grand Master.

Around the bier are stationed a number of high officers of the President's Military Household, who, with several Sisters of Charity, watched the remains throughout the night.

The Prefecture itself is surrounded with troops, and a strong detachment of infantry is guarding the building in which Santo, the assassin, is confined.

When Mue. Carnot reached the Prefecture the death chamber was cleared of all but the family, and the widow and her sons were left alone with their dead.

The late President's family remained for a long time in prayer before the bier, and then the widow was led away by her three sons, all four weeping bitterly.

The Body Photographed.

Later the remains were photographed, and a consultation between the sons of the late President and the authorities in charge of the remains took place.

The exact nature of their deliberations has not been made public, but it was stated that Mue. Carnot does not desire the body of her late husband to be embalmed, and wishes it to be removed immediately from Lyons to this city in order that it may lie in state in the chapel of the Elisee Palace.

No decision was arrived at this morning as to whether an official post-mortem examination of the remains of the late of people are indignant and much sympathy is expressed for France.

Emperor William, upon receiving the news at Kiel, immediately telegraphed to Mue. Carnot expressing his condolence in warmly sympathetic terms.

ITALY'S SORROW.

Voiced in a Message from King Humbert's Representative.

(Special to The World.)

PARIS, June 23.—Premier Dupuy has received a telegraphic message from Baron Blanc, the Italian Minister for Foreign Affairs, saying that King Humbert, the Italian nation, the two Chambers and the Government of Italy "share the grief into which France has been plunged by the hand of an Anarchist—a man without a country."

ROME, June 23.—All the Italian Bourses have been closed out of sympathy for the great loss France has sustained by the assassination of President Carnot.

IN MEMORY OF CARNOT.

The United States Senate Adjourns for the Day.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The death of President Carnot was the sole theme about the Senate today, and was referred to in a prayer, marked by deep feeling, delivered by the Rev. Dr. Milburn, the blind Chaplain of the Senate.

Immediately after the opening prayer Senator Morgan, Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, offered a resolution expressive of the sympathy of the people of the United States with the French Republic and tendering sympathy to Mue. Carnot and her family.

The resolution closed by declaring that the Senate adjourn out of respect to the memory of the dead President.

Senator Morgan made a brief speech, in which he referred to the patriotism of the people of the French Republic and the cordiality of the relations between the two Republics.

At 10:30 the Senate adjourned.

GEN. HARRISON SHOCKED.

But Thinks the Assassination Can't Affect the Republic's Stability.

(By Associated Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, June 23.—Not since the shooting of President Garfield has any event so shocked ex-President Harrison as did the news of the fatal assault on President Carnot, which he learned of his arrival home from church last night.

Gen. Harrison appeared stunned for an instant, and expressed his deep sorrow, which he said went out to the Republic, the French Republic, and the people of France. "The spirit of anarchy which has against an assassin to raise his hand against the President of the Republic," Gen. Harrison continued, "I believe the immediate move must be to restore the Republic, and to prevent the assassin from a privilege against President Carnot."

"But the act, dreadful as it is, cannot be allowed to affect the stability of the French Republic. It has seemed to me to be firmly grounded on the principles of the Republic, and I cannot believe that the assassin can cause a revolution in favor of monarchy. The effect of this assassination can only intensify the forces of law and order against these Anarchists."

"ABOVE ALL, A NEWSPAPER."

The "Evening World's" Extra on the Carnot Murder.

Following the general custom of giving to the public immediately the news of all important events, "The Evening World" last evening issued an extra edition, which exclusively gave to the people of the metropolis, Brooklyn and the suburbs, the first news of the assassination of President Carnot, of France, and also the capturing of the assassin, Santo, of Scotland.

The extra edition of "The Evening World" contained a full and detailed account of the murder of President Carnot, and also a complete history of the attack upon President Carnot, and even before the fact was generally known in Lyons, the extra was being distributed in this city.

Thousands of copies of "The Evening World" extra were sold in the city, and in the suburbs, in all of the hotels and other places where people were gathered. The extra was read with much interest, and in some cases where the copy was not read, the demand for the extra was so great that it was not possible to secure a copy of the paper.

It is enterprise of this sort that New Yorkers like, and a great mark of the popularity of "The Evening World" is the fact that it is so widely read.

WHY CROKER RETURNS.
Danger from the Sugar Trust Investigation Has Passed.
Suggestion that He Sailed to Get Out of the Jurisdiction.
Dazed Politicians Can Only Guess What It All Really Means.

Politicians are as deeply puzzled over the announcement of ex-Gov. Croker's unexpected return from Europe as they were over his sudden departure. Croker's actions during the past month have been a mystery to the Tammany followers who are not in his confidence, and those who know the secrets of the jack-in-the-box movements of his former chief keep the people guessing.

There has been so many contradictory statements made by Croker and his friends as to the real cause of his hasty departure and return that it is doubtful now if the people would believe the real version of the affair if it was made public.

An entirely new theory was advanced this morning. A man prominent in political affairs and who is well informed on the politics of the city, State and Nation, said that it is his opinion Croker went to Europe not to escape the Lezow Committee, but the United States Senate Sugar-Investigating Committee. It was understood, according to this authority, that Croker's visits to Washington, which were heralded to have been in the interest of the Tariff bill, were really made to influence Senators' votes on the sugar schedule in the interest of the Sugar Trust.

The same gentleman surmises that Croker may have got wind that he would be summoned to testify in the sugar inquiry, and thereupon placed himself beyond the jurisdiction of the Committee. When he went away it was the intention of the investigators to sit two or three months, and now that they have adjourned Croker may feel safe in coming back, so it is thought.

Another, and what is considered a plausible explanation, is that Croker received positive information that the Lezow Committee would adjourn at the end of this week, and that he might receive the favorable feeling towards him in the organization because he ran away by coming back, but Tammany would be angry through and through, and they will not be misled by such a flimsy trick. The fact is, Croker cannot recollect the widely conflicting statements when he went away and now that the committee is over.

After his departure, when interviewed by the correspondent of "The Evening World," he declared that he took the ocean trip merely to get rid of an attack of malaria, and that he had been questioned as to where he got it from.

Public Works Commissioner Michael T. Daly, who knows about Croker, and could tell why he left and why he came back, could not be contacted. He said today he had not heard anything further from Croker, and that he had not seen him since he left.

A report was started that Croker was coming home to resume the leadership of the Tammany faction, but the rumor was declared to be unfounded.

GOLDHORN BROUGHT BACK.
Over $7,000 in Cash, Diamonds and Gold Watches Recovered.

Ludwig L. Goldhorn, who is accused of swindling the American branch of the Manhattan Insurance Company, of 36 Beaver street, out of about $75,000 by a series of clever forgeries, was brought back from St. Croix, West Indies, by Detective Sheridan, of Inspector McLaughlin's staff, this morning.

He arrived at her dock at 8 o'clock, and was taken to the Police Headquarters and later was taken to the Court of General Sessions.

When captured, $7,211 in cash, $9 in old coins, $3 worth of Columbian postage stamps, three gold watches and five diamonds were found on him, all of which were turned over to Detective Sheridan and brought back to this city.

WIMAN GETS A STAY.
Execution of Sentence Postponed, Pending Argument.
Plea for a Certificate of Reasonable Doubt Friday.

Justice Barrett, of the Supreme Court, today issued an order requiring the District Attorney to show cause why a certificate of reasonable doubt should not be issued in the case of Ernest Wiman, now under sentence to five years and six months' imprisonment on a charge of forgery in the second degree.

The order was issued upon the application of Lawyer A. B. Boardman, of Mr. Wiman's counsel, and is made returnable next Friday.

In connection with the order to show cause, Justice Barrett issued a stay of execution, which will prevent Mr. Wiman from being taken to Sing Sing until after the question of issuing the certificate of reasonable doubt has been argued.

The whole proceeding in court this morning was very brief.

Mr. Boardman did not state to Justice Barrett the grounds on which he would argue for the certificate of reasonable doubt.

SHIPPING NEWS.

SHIP	DESTINATION	DEPARTURE
ALBANY	NEW YORK	11:30 A.M.
ALBANY	NEW YORK	11:30 A.M.
ALBANY	NEW YORK	11:30 A.M.

PORT OF NEW YORK.

SHIP	FROM	TO
ALBANY	NEW YORK	NEW YORK
ALBANY	NEW YORK	NEW YORK
ALBANY	NEW YORK	NEW YORK

OUTGOING STEAMERS.

SHIP	DESTINATION	DEPARTURE
ALBANY	NEW YORK	11:30 A.M.
ALBANY	NEW YORK	11:30 A.M.
ALBANY	NEW YORK	11:30 A.M.

INCOMING STEAMERS.

SHIP	FROM	TO
ALBANY	NEW YORK	NEW YORK
ALBANY	NEW YORK	NEW YORK
ALBANY	NEW YORK	NEW YORK

TALK TO THE WORLD THROUGH THE WORLD'S UPTOWN OFFICE.

222 ST. 7.

THE WORLD'S UPTOWN OFFICE

To reach the World's Half Million

Leave your Want advt. HERE.

France Mourns Her Martyred President.

An overladen tug, a foolishly skipper, a boy at the wheel, open bunkers and a tin can that journeyed too often between the beer legs and the crew of the tug James D. Nicol are some of the causes given for the terrible disaster which overtook the fishing party of the Herring Fishing Co. yesterday afternoon, in which the founder of Sandy Hook, with a party of eighty or more men on board, and many lives were sacrificed.

So far as can be learned, the names of the drowned, missing and survivors are as follows:

The Drowned.

BUCKINGHAM, WALTER, No. 322 Halber street, Brooklyn; body at Highland's Morgue.

BRANN, JOHN, No. 374 Eighth avenue; carpenter; body at Highland's Morgue.

GRAHAM, CHARLES, No. 175 East Fourth street.

HIGGINS, J., No. 71 Pearl street, twenty-eight years; driver.

MALIER, FRANK, 36 Washington street; body at St. George's street.

SCHULTZ, FRANK, printer; Eleventh street, near First avenue.

The Missing.

MOORE, WILLIAM, bartender; residence unknown.

SEWARD, HERMAN, residence unknown; body at Highland's Morgue.

KEYSER, residence unknown; body at Highland's Morgue.

KNOWLTON, MAN, thirty, sandy hair and mustache, washed ashore at Highland.

BURKHART, CHARLES, 315 East Seventy-eighth street.

BRIDGES, HENRY, 925 Garden street, Hoboken.

REINHART, HERMAN, 432 East Eighth street, Brooklyn.

PAY, FREDERICK, 328 East Forty-eighth street.

HUGHES, JOHN, 102 Classen avenue, Brooklyn.

FAY, EDWARD, Harlem.

QUASMAN, SOLOMON, 1237 First avenue.

GAUTNER, SAMUEL.

HAYES, JAMES, Bridge street.

HIGGINS, J., 71 Pearl street, aged twenty-eight years; driver.

REINHART, JOSEPH, 34 East Seventy-eighth street.

HORAN, DELL, 67 West Fourteenth street.

HOCHER, LOUIS, fireman on the Nicol.

HARMON, ALBERT, twenty-two years old, deck hand on Nicol, Broadhurst, N.Y.

JAMES HORNBY, forty-five, works at Brennan & White's shoe factory, Classen and Flushing avenue, Brooklyn.

STANLEY, GUSTAVE, 194 Second avenue.

KIRCHNER, WILLIAM, 109 Second avenue.

LANGDON, WILLIAM, boatman, Roosevelt and Water streets.

REINHART, HENRY, 79 Broome street.

MOORE, WILLIAM, twenty years, bartender, Brooklyn.

QUASMAN, SOLOMON.

MILHOLAND, RICH, South and Main streets.

PAUL, ALBERT, 32 South street.

PEINING, HENRY, 68 East Fourth street.

BRANN, JOHN, 374 Eighth street.

SCHULTZ, WILLIAM, 35 Forsyth street.

SCHLESINGER, THOMAS, sixteen years old, Mort street, near Blocker street.

TRUESDELL, WILLIAM, twenty-two, 38th Avenue, Brooklyn.

ANDERSON, EDWARD, 31 First avenue and Eighth street.

WEISBERG, ANDREW, 31 East Eleventh street.

WESTING, CHARLES, 235 Christie street.

WILE, EMIL, 32 1/2 Bowery.

ZAHN, CHRISTIAN, 50 East Thirty-ninth street.

The Rescued.

BRADY, JAMES, 22 East Ninth street.

BRUNZINGER, CHAS., 25 Chryslie street.

 CAVE, EDWARD, 374 Eleventh street. | CURTIN, JEROME, 81 Eighth street. | DONOHUE, JAMES. | REINHART, CHARLES, 42 East Eighth street, Brooklyn. | FRANZ, GUSTAVE, 351 Broadway, Brooklyn. | FARELL, JOSEPH, First avenue and Twelfth street. | FARELL, JOSEPH, 417 East Ninth street, Brooklyn. | FARELL, JOHN, Washington street, Brooklyn. | FLEMING, JAMES. | GRAHAM, GEORGE D., 175 East Fourth street. | GROVER, GEORGE, 31 East Fifth street. | LOCKNER, CHAR, College Point, L.I. | GILMORE, JAMES, 12 Broad street. | HOPKIN, JOHN H., 46 East Seventy-eighth street. |

EXTRA.
2 O'CLOCK.
IO KNOWN TO BE DROWNED.
And Many of the Ill-Fated Tug Nicol's Passengers Missing.
SEARCHING FOR THE BODIES.
"The Evening World" Sends a Tug to Scour the Lower Bay for Victims.
CORONER WILL INVESTIGATE.
An Effort Will Be Made to Fix the Blame for Yesterday's Terrible Disaster.

PARIS, June 23.—The deepest sorrow, dismay and anger prevail throughout France.

The cowardly assassination of President Sadi Carnot at Lyons last night is most heartily deplored by all.

Great anxiety prevails in regard to the future, and this feeling will not be allayed until a successor to the late President is in office.

Behind this is the anger of France at the assassin, Cesare Giovanni Santo, the young Italian, whose deadly knife has plunged a nation into grief.

Telegrams of sympathy are pouring in upon the late President's family and upon the Government. These messages of condolence come from all countries of the world, showing that France is not alone in her sorrow at the death of her President.

The newspapers, of all shades of opinion, print leading articles deploring the assassination of Sadi Carnot.

Signs of mourning are this morning general throughout this city and throughout France. All the flags are at half-mast, and the public buildings are being draped with crepe.

Mme. Carnot at Lyons.

Mme. Carnot, accompanied by her two sons, arrived at Lyons at 7 o'clock this morning. The widow was most respectfully greeted by a large crowd of people assembled about the railroad depot. She proceeded immediately to the Prefecture, where the body of the late President now lies in state.

One of the dead man's sons, when he saw the decorations in the Rue de la Republique and other streets, decorated with the flag which had been reserved for the President, was so agitated that he almost died.

The flags and other decorations on the facade were, however, removed during the night and the great flag which floats over the Chamber of Commerce was replaced by a large square flag of crepe.

The inhabitants of Lyons generally this morning are removing the festive decorations from their buildings and are replacing them with mourning emblems as far as possible.

Carnot's Body Lies in State.

The apartment at the Prefecture in which the body of the late President lies in state presents a most impressive appearance.

The remains of the murdered man are clad in a dress suit, and across his breast is the Grand Cord on of the Legion of Honor, as Chief of the State, he was Grand Master.

Around the bier are stationed a number of high officers of the President's Military Household, who, with several Sisters of Charity, watched the remains throughout the night.

The Prefecture itself is surrounded with troops, and a strong detachment of infantry is guarding the building in which Santo, the assassin, is confined.

When Mue. Carnot reached the Prefecture the death chamber was cleared of all but the family, and the widow and her sons were left alone with their dead.

The late President's family remained for a long time in prayer before the bier, and then the widow was led away by her three sons, all four weeping bitterly.

The Body Photographed.

Later the remains were photographed, and a consultation between the sons of the late President and the authorities in charge of the remains took place.

The exact nature of their deliberations has not been made public, but it was stated that Mue. Carnot does not desire the body of her late husband to be embalmed, and wishes it to be removed immediately from Lyons to this city in order that it may lie in state in the chapel of the Elisee Palace.

No decision was arrived at this morning as to whether an official post-mortem examination of the remains of the late

PARIS, June 23.—The deepest sorrow, dismay and anger prevail throughout France.

The cowardly assassination of President Sadi Carnot at Lyons last night is most heartily deplored by all.

Great anxiety prevails in regard to the future, and this feeling will not be allayed until a successor to the late President is in office.

Behind this is the anger of France at the assassin, Cesare Giovanni Santo, the young Italian, whose deadly knife has plunged a nation into grief.

Telegrams of sympathy are pouring in upon the late President's family and upon the Government. These messages of condolence come from all countries of the world, showing that France is not alone in her sorrow at the death of her President.

The newspapers, of all shades of opinion, print leading articles deploring the assassination of Sadi Carnot.

Signs of mourning are this morning general throughout this city and throughout France. All the flags are at half-mast, and the public buildings are being draped with crepe.

Mme. Carnot at Lyons.

Mme. Carnot, accompanied by her two sons, arrived at Lyons at 7 o'clock this morning. The widow was most respectfully greeted by a large crowd of people assembled about the railroad depot. She proceeded immediately to the Prefecture, where the body of the late President now lies in state.

One of the dead man's sons, when he saw the decorations in the Rue de la Republique and other streets, decorated with the flag which had been reserved for the President, was so agitated that he almost died.

The flags and other decorations on the facade were, however, removed during the night and the great flag which floats over the Chamber of Commerce was replaced by a large square flag of crepe.

The inhabitants of Lyons generally this morning are removing the festive decorations from their buildings and are replacing them with mourning emblems as far as possible.

Carnot's Body Lies in State.

The apartment at the Prefecture in which the body of the late President lies in state presents a most impressive appearance.

The remains of the murdered man are clad in a dress suit, and across his breast is the Grand Cord on of the Legion of Honor, as Chief of the State, he was Grand Master.

Around the bier are stationed a number of high officers of the President's Military Household, who, with several Sisters of Charity, watched the remains throughout the night.

The Prefecture itself is surrounded with troops, and a strong detachment of infantry is guarding the building in which Santo, the assassin, is confined.

When Mue. Carnot reached the Prefecture the death chamber was cleared of all but the family, and the widow and her sons were left alone with their dead.

The late President's family remained for a long time in prayer before the bier, and then the widow was led away by her three sons, all four weeping bitterly.

The Body Photographed.

Later the remains were photographed, and a consultation between the sons of the late President and the authorities in charge of the remains took place.

The exact nature of their deliberations has not been made public, but it was stated that Mue. Carnot does not desire the body of her late husband to be embalmed, and wishes it to be removed immediately from Lyons to this city in order that it may lie in state in the chapel of the Elisee Palace.

No decision was arrived at this morning as to whether an official post-mortem examination of the remains of the late

PARIS, June 23.—The deepest sorrow, dismay and anger prevail throughout France.

The cowardly assassination of President Sadi Carnot at Lyons last night is most heartily deplored by all.

Great anxiety prevails in regard to the future, and this feeling will not be allayed until a successor to the late President is in office.

Behind this is the anger of France at the assassin, Cesare Giovanni Santo, the young Italian, whose deadly knife has plunged a nation into grief.

Telegrams of sympathy are pouring in upon the late President's family and upon the Government. These messages of condolence come from all countries of the world, showing that France is not alone in her sorrow at the death of her President.

The newspapers, of all shades of opinion, print leading articles deploring the assassination of Sadi Carnot.

Signs of mourning are this morning general throughout this city and throughout France. All the flags are at half-mast, and the public buildings are being draped with crepe.

Mme. Carnot at Lyons.

Mme. Carnot, accompanied by her two sons, arrived at Lyons at 7 o'clock this morning. The widow was most respectfully greeted by a large crowd of people assembled about the railroad depot. She proceeded immediately to the Prefecture, where the body of the late President now lies in state.

One of the dead man's sons, when he saw the decorations in the Rue de la Republique and other streets, decorated with the flag which had been reserved for the President, was so agitated that he almost died.

The flags and other decorations on the facade were, however, removed during the night and the great flag which floats over the Chamber of Commerce was replaced by a large square flag of crepe.

The inhabitants of Lyons generally this morning are removing the festive decorations from their buildings and are replacing them with mourning emblems as far as possible.

Carnot's Body Lies in State.

The apartment at the Prefecture in which the body of the late President lies in state presents a most impressive appearance.

The remains of the murdered man are clad in a dress suit, and across his breast is the Grand Cord on of the Legion of Honor, as Chief of the State, he was Grand Master.

Around the bier are stationed a number of high officers of the President's Military Household, who, with several Sisters of Charity, watched the remains throughout the night.

The Prefecture itself is surrounded with troops, and a strong detachment of infantry is guarding the building in which Santo, the assassin, is confined.

When Mue. Carnot reached the Prefecture the death chamber was cleared of all but the family, and the widow and her sons were left alone with their dead.

The late President's family remained for a long time in prayer before the bier, and then the widow was led away by her three sons, all four weeping bitterly.

The Body Photographed.

Later the remains were photographed, and a consultation between the sons of the late President and the authorities in charge of the remains took place.

The exact nature of their deliberations has not been made public, but it was stated that Mue. Carnot does not desire the body of her late husband to be embalmed, and wishes it to be removed immediately from Lyons to this city in order that it may lie in state in the chapel of the Elisee Palace.

No decision was arrived at this morning as to whether an official post-mortem examination of the remains of the late

PARIS, June 23.—The deepest sorrow, dismay and anger prevail throughout France.

The cowardly assassination of President Sadi Carnot at Lyons last night is most heartily deplored by all.

Great anxiety prevails in regard to the future, and this feeling will not be allayed until a successor to the late President is in office.

Behind this is the anger of France at the assassin, Cesare Giovanni Santo, the young Italian, whose deadly knife has plunged a nation into grief.

Telegrams of sympathy are pouring in upon the late President's family and upon the Government. These messages of condolence come from all countries of the world, showing that France is not alone in her sorrow at the death of her President.

The newspapers, of all shades of opinion, print leading articles deploring the assassination of Sadi Carnot.

Signs of mourning are this morning general throughout this city and throughout France. All the flags are at half-mast, and the public buildings are being draped with crepe.

Mme. Carnot at Lyons.

Mme. Carnot, accompanied by her two sons, arrived at Lyons at 7 o'clock this morning. The widow was most respectfully greeted by a large crowd of people assembled about the railroad depot. She proceeded immediately to the Prefecture, where the body of the late President now lies in state.

One of the dead man's sons, when he saw the decorations in the Rue de la Republique and other streets, decorated with the flag which had been reserved for the President, was so agitated that he almost died.

The flags and other decorations on the facade were, however, removed during the night and the great flag which floats over the Chamber of Commerce was replaced by a large square flag of crepe.

The inhabitants of Lyons generally this morning are removing the festive decorations from their buildings and are replacing them with mourning emblems as far as possible.

Carnot's Body Lies in State.

The apartment at the Prefecture in which the body of the late President lies in state presents a most impressive appearance.

The remains of the murdered man are clad in a dress suit, and across his breast is the Grand Cord on of the Legion of Honor, as Chief of the State, he was Grand Master.

Around the bier are stationed a number of high officers of the President's Military Household, who, with several Sisters of Charity, watched the remains throughout the night.

The Prefecture itself is surrounded with troops, and a strong detachment of infantry is guarding the building in which Santo, the assassin, is confined.

When Mue. Carnot reached the Prefecture the death chamber was cleared of all but the family, and the widow and her sons were left alone with their dead.

The late President's family remained for a long time in prayer before the bier, and then the widow was led away by her three sons, all four weeping bitterly.

The Body Photographed.

Later the remains were photographed, and a consultation between the sons of the late President and the authorities in charge of the remains took place.

The exact nature of their deliberations has not been made public, but it was stated that Mue. Carnot does not desire the body of her late husband to be embalmed, and wishes it to be removed immediately from Lyons to this city in order that it may lie in state in the chapel of the Elisee Palace.

No decision was arrived at this morning as to whether an official post-mortem examination of the remains of the late